Learn from the Experts at AACP!

Pick up the knowledge and clinical skills required to assess and differentially diagnose commonly encountered Temporomandibular Disorders seen in a dental practice that may impact the successful management of a patient with Sleep Disordered Breathing. Additionally, you will gain advanced medical and dental training to successfully treat patients with these disorders. Simultaneously, you will make progress toward fulfilling AACP Fellowship and AGD Mastership requirements.

Due to the popular demand for the AACP Sleep Medicine and Dentistry Mini-Residency program, we have been asked to provide a condensed version of this three-weekend (6 days) course.

This year, we will be offering a one-weekend (4 days total) course that will allow registrants to save substantially on both travel/lodging expenses and time lost in the office. This condensed course is ideal for our international members who may have long and expensive flights, and also for many of our other members who want to take advantage of the condensed course.

But make no mistake, this is the complete Mini-Residency Course that has garnered rave reviews for the past two years! All of the lecture materials of the 6-day course will be presented, but class days will be extended to accommodate all of the clinical sessions.

Each student will still receive 3 different appliances, but will have to submit suitable impressions and bite relationships at least 6 weeks prior to the meeting in order for the sleep appliances to be made ahead of time.

This special edition of the Sleep Mini-Residency is being held in Canada for the first time! We have assembled a stellar cadre of guest speakers featuring renowned Canadian experts like Dennis Marangos, DDS; Rick Bonato, PhD; Doug Liepert, MD and Qasim Alikhan, MD. They will be a welcome complement to some of our regular instructors like Chase Bennett, DDS, and Julia Worrall, RN.

Everything takes place March 23-26 at the Henry Schein Training Facility, 221 Jacob Keffer Parkway, Concord, Ontario L4K 5T9, Canada. Several hotels close to the Facility will provide comfortable and affordable accommodations for our registrants. (See hotel details on the next page.)

The AACP designates this course for up to 30 hours of continuing education credits (both lectures and hands-on experience).

The class will be strictly limited to the first 25 people who enroll with their tuition payment. We anticipate that this class will fill up quickly so reserve your spot today.

Program Benefits

Enrollment is strictly limited to 25 participants to ensure quality instruction. This exceptional learning experience incorporates training from both dentist and physicians who are leaders in the field.

This program examines this complex discipline from both a medical and dental perspective incorporating important principles of diagnosis and treatment.

You will leave the program understanding the importance of recognizing TMD prior to initiating treatment and what to do if issues develop after treatment is initiated.

Teaching/Learning Methodologies

Lecture and participation is included with emphasis on clinically relevant knowledge and developing clinical skills.

Training by both dentists and physicians increased the scope of understanding while fostering the importance of a team approach to insure the highest level of patient care.
